TargetFFS: Write Speed vs. Remaining Space

The graph shows the relationship between the percentage of remaining space in a storage volume and the write speed, which is proportional to writes to empty volume. As the percentage of remaining space decreases, the write speed decreases as well, indicating a non-linear relationship.